ESTATE REPRESENTATION

We are honored to preserve and amplify the legacies of literary estates. Our dedicated estate representation team works to protect authors' intellectual property, introduce classic works to new generations, and create fresh opportunities for their continued influence.

Through careful stewardship, we ensure that the voices of the past remain vital in the present and future.

Our illustration division represents artists and visual storytellers whose work enhances both the literary and media landscapes.

From picture books and graphic novels to cover art and digital platforms, we champion illustrators with the same dedication and strategy we bring to our authors, ensuring their artistry reaches the widest possible audience.
